

Hopes Fulfilled

Lady Bird Dedicates Glen Canyon's Dam

By Barbi Pouch Tribune Staff Writer

PAGE, ARIZ.—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson dedicated Glen Canyon Dam Thursday and appealed to all "conservationists, parcelling out resources judiciously, enjoying and not depleting them."

Standing under a red, white and blue bedecked speaker's stand atop the 710-foot dam, Mrs. Johnson swept aside a brown-haired Navajo rug to unveil a bronze plaque which is the dedicatory marker to the water conservation project.

Hopes Fulfilled

Mrs. Johnson, wearing a Kelly green jacket, said, "Glen Canyon is not just a Colorado River dam. It belongs to the nation."

Standing under a burning noonday sun the wife of the President because of Glen Canyon. Many hopes will be fulfilled by the dam. It is a vital commodity in the Southwest today.

A dam such as this one is a dramatic element in the whole story of water conservation, and the story of water conservation is of increasing concern to every single American, no matter where he lives.

The crowd estimated at 2,500 applauded when the First Lady noted—with enthusiasm—that "it is a close-up view of the area on foot, or in a boat for hours and hours."

The dam cannot explore Lake Powell's 1,800 miles of shoreline in a hurry, but the places invite exploration."

"The appealing genius of conservation is that it combines energetic feats of technology—like this dam—with the quiet humility that leaves some corners of nature alone—free of technology—to be a spiritual sanctuary and recreational area."

The First Lady concluded, "America is only beginning to discover the natural beauty that is here. Our country is entering a new era of wise water conservation."

Upon her arrival at the Page airport Thursday morning, Mrs. Johnson was greeted by Utah and Arizona dignitaries.

After being in the hot desert sun a few minutes, Mrs. Johnson sat her jacket.

Unbeknownst to the First Lady, her matching Kelly green wool dress was partially unfastened down the back.

White House reporter Helen Thomas, United Press International, stepped up and zipped up the dress.

In Page for the past two weeks making final arrangements for the First Lady's visit was her personal secretary, special services officer, Bureau of Reclamation, Salt Lake regional office.

One of the problems facing the bureau was getting enough people to welcome Mrs. Johnson. Page has a population of about 1,500.

Bands representing Kanab and Orderville, Utah, and Page, Fredonia and Kayenta, Arizona, turned out, as well as students from those schools. . . about 600 in all.

Left Is Riot

REUTERS News Agency TOKYO—More than 700 students fought with stones and sticks in a park here Thursday night over who should lead a peace organization.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson throws back Navajo blanket covering plaque at Glen Canyon dedication. Assisting from left are Gov. Samuel Goldfarb Jr., Arizona; Sec. of Interior Stewart L. Udall; Gov. Calvin L. Hampton.

U.S. Spurs Peace Bid, Proposes Viet Pullout

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—The Thursday proposed to Hanoi Thursday that both sides agree to a phased supervised military withdrawal from South Viet Nam as a prelude to ending the war.

In a major policy speech to the U.N. General Assembly, Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg also offered to end the U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam, provided there are assurances from North Viet Nam of an appropriate military de-escalation.

He urged that these two questions be put to Ho Chi Minh's Communist regime in the North: "Would it, in the interest of peace, and in response to a prior cessation by the United States of the bombing of North Viet Nam, take corresponding and timely steps to reduce or bring to an end its own military activities against South Viet Nam?"

"Would North Viet Nam be willing to agree to a time schedule for supervised withdrawal of its troops from North Viet Nam, at all external forces—those of North Viet Nam as well as those from the United States and other countries aiding South Viet Nam?"

He offered an assurance, either publicly or privately: "We offer these proposals in the interest of peace in Southeast Asia," Goldberg told the delegates from 118 nations. "There may be other proposals. We have not been and are not now inflexible in our position."

Soviet reaction to the speech was reserved. It was praise from many delegates, while some others said it contained nothing new.

Nikolai T. Fedorenko, the chief Soviet delegate in the United Nations, said the speech was "a set of declarations and words with familiar old sounds and tunes. It has some ideas, but each speech should be judged not by sounds but by deeds. We are aware of the escalation of the barbaric war in Viet Nam."

Called Constructive Canadian Foreign Secretary Paul Martin said the speech was the most constructive one he had heard in a long time and expressed hope it would get a careful reply from Hanoi.

French Proposal French President Charles de Gaulle proposed on Sept. 3 that the United States be the first to put an armistice on the table.

Wilhelm Tambores The spy-riddled space explorer had written and tumbled in his death throes for more than 34 hours of his 43-hour trip to the moon.

Chicago Fire Kills Seven CHICAGO (UPI)—Seven persons perished and at least four others were injured early Friday when fire broke out in an apartment house on Chicago's south side.

Ivan the Terrible's Free... Briefly OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Ivan the Terrible, an adult snow leopard which escaped from the Oklahoma City Lincoln Park Zoo Wednesday night, was captured early Friday.

Living Costs Spiral at Record Clip

WASHINGTON (AP)—The upward swing of prices continued last month at the fastest rate in 30 years, boosting living costs another four-tenths of one percent, the government said Thursday.

The August rise was most noticeable at the supermarket, the dealer's office and the used car lot.

"Diana merely copied water. They don't create it," Gov. Hampton said. "To survive, water-rich basins to the north of us will have to share their resources with us, rather than dumping it into the sea."

Gov. and Mrs. Hampton presented Mrs. Johnson with a record album of the Utah Symphony Orchestra and the Mormon Tabernacle Choir and a copy of the Utah model.

Special Utah in his brief talk declared that Lake Powell was "the most scenic and spectacular man-made lake in the world world."

Groomin' Gives Coin' Gal Chance at Groovy Groom GIRLS, DID YOU EVER TRY to put on your lipstick while you were talking on the phone?

TURN TO PAGE D-1 FOR the latest grooming tips for those in a hurry.

HANDY GUIDE TO THE INSIDE Business 13-3011 Obituaries Page Classified 13-1323 Society D-13 Star 13-3222 D-2 Health D-13 Television D-6 Editorial A-22 National A-10,11,12,13,14,15,16,17,18,19,20,21,22,23,24,25,26,27,28,29,30,31,32,33,34,35,36,37,38,39,40,41,42,43,44,45,46,47,48,49,50,51,52,53,54,55,56,57,58,59,60,61,62,63,64,65,66,67,68,69,70,71,72,73,74,75,76,77,78,79,80,81,82,83,84,85,86,87,88,89,90,91,92,93,94,95,96,97,98,99,100

Today's Chuckle Dines: A state we are all deep in the heart of.

No One Hurt in Blast

OTTAWA (AP)—Opponents of the anti-Castro Movement said his anti-Castro speech set off the blast. In a public announcement, Rivers, 41, a veteran of the Bay of Pigs invasion, said:

"Canada has been chosen for the battlefield of the war against the Communist because of its leading and provocative anti-Castro government with respect to the tragedy of the Cuban people enslaved by international Communism."

Report Success "Secret cells of the movement which I direct took me this morning of the success of the action which they carried out."

N.Y. Nabs 13 At Rally of Cosa Nostra NEW YORK (AP)—Thirteen underworld chieftains from various parts of the nation were arrested by police Thursday at "Little Apple" meeting in a Queens restaurant.

Break Up Gathering "One of the 13 was Michael Mirando, a Cosa Nostra underboss from New York, who was arrested Thursday by the enforcement of 68 hoodlums and their hangers-on at Apparatius, N.Y. That gathering was broken up by state police."

Original Scenten The original Apparatius meeting was believed to have been called for the purpose of allocating racket territories and disciplining unaffiliated members against whom there had been complaints.

Today's Chuckle Dines: A state we are all deep in the heart of.

Would Halt Bombs, Goldberg Tells U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—The Thursday proposed to Hanoi Thursday that both sides agree to a phased supervised military withdrawal from South Viet Nam as a prelude to ending the war.

In a major policy speech to the U.N. General Assembly, Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg also offered to end the U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam, provided there are assurances from North Viet Nam of an appropriate military de-escalation.

He urged that these two questions be put to Ho Chi Minh's Communist regime in the North: "Would it, in the interest of peace, and in response to a prior cessation by the United States of the bombing of North Viet Nam, take corresponding and timely steps to reduce or bring to an end its own military activities against South Viet Nam?"

"Would North Viet Nam be willing to agree to a time schedule for supervised withdrawal of its troops from North Viet Nam, at all external forces—those of North Viet Nam as well as those from the United States and other countries aiding South Viet Nam?"

He offered an assurance, either publicly or privately: "We offer these proposals in the interest of peace in Southeast Asia," Goldberg told the delegates from 118 nations. "There may be other proposals. We have not been and are not now inflexible in our position."

Soviet reaction to the speech was reserved. It was praise from many delegates, while some others said it contained nothing new.

Nikolai T. Fedorenko, the chief Soviet delegate in the United Nations, said the speech was "a set of declarations and words with familiar old sounds and tunes. It has some ideas, but each speech should be judged not by sounds but by deeds. We are aware of the escalation of the barbaric war in Viet Nam."

Called Constructive Canadian Foreign Secretary Paul Martin said the speech was the most constructive one he had heard in a long time and expressed hope it would get a careful reply from Hanoi.

French Proposal French President Charles de Gaulle proposed on Sept. 3 that the United States be the first to put an armistice on the table.

Wilhelm Tambores The spy-riddled space explorer had written and tumbled in his death throes for more than 34 hours of his 43-hour trip to the moon.

Chicago Fire Kills Seven CHICAGO (UPI)—Seven persons perished and at least four others were injured early Friday when fire broke out in an apartment house on Chicago's south side.

Ivan the Terrible's Free... Briefly OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Ivan the Terrible, an adult snow leopard which escaped from the Oklahoma City Lincoln Park Zoo Wednesday night, was captured early Friday.

Today's Chuckle Dines: A state we are all deep in the heart of.

Today's Chuckle Dines: A state we are all deep in the heart of.

Today's Chuckle Dines: A state we are all deep in the heart of.

Today's Chuckle Dines: A state we are all deep in the heart of.

Today's Chuckle Dines: A state we are all deep in the heart of.

Today's Chuckle Dines: A state we are all deep in the heart of.

Today's Chuckle Dines: A state we are all deep in the heart of.